

Moving Families Foundation™

Single Parent Protection Plan

FAQ

Do I have to apply for the Moving Families Single Parent Protection Plan?

Yes, you must apply.

When does the application period begin, and what is the deadline?

The application period opens on the day applicant moves into their new home with their children as part of a “Confirmed Move.”

- For renters, the application period ends on the one-year anniversary date of the parents or legal guardian’s rental or lease agreement of their “Confirmed Move.”
- For homeowners, the application period ends on the one-year anniversary date of the parents or legal guardian closed escrow on the home of their “Confirmed Move.”

Are there any costs or fees associated with applying for Moving Families Single Parent Protection Plan?

No, there are no costs.

If single parents share 50/50 joint custody of their children, are both eligible?

No, only the single parent who registers at the Moving Families Initiative® Connectivity Platform™ and the Moving Families Foundation™ and moves or relocates FIRST with the children living in their primary residence is eligible for the Moving Families Single Parent Protection Plan.

Am I eligible to apply if my children are homeschooled?

Yes, you are eligible to apply if your children are homeschooled.

Am I eligible to apply if I am not a U.S. citizen?

Yes, however, you must reside in the United States or a U.S. territory and meet all the other selection criteria, including that of the life insurance company provider.

Are single parent’s children required to participant in extracurricular activities?

No, however, applicant’s children are encouraged to participate in an extracurricular activity or activities of their choice.

Moving Families Foundation™

Single Parent Protection Plan

FAQ

If I get married after being awarded the Moving Families Single Parent Protection Plan benefits, do I lose them?

No, you do not lose your protection.

Will I be liable for taxes?

A portion of the cost of the insurance protection provided may be considered taxable by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service. Recipients are responsible for determining their tax liability for the benefits, and for reporting the taxable portions as income, if applicable. See your accountant or CPA for details.

Am I allowed to receive other insurance benefits and still qualify for the Moving Families Single Parent Protection Plan?

Yes, the Moving Families Single Parent Protection Plan has no restrictions.

How will I receive the Moving Families Single Parent Protection Plan benefits?

Payments for benefits are sent directly to your life insurance provider.

If I receive Moving Families Single Parent Protection Plan benefits, what is expected of me?

The Moving Families Foundation™ expects benefit recipients to:

- Demonstrate honorable character and leadership at home, work, and in the community as an example for their children.
- Be engaged in their community.
- Work jointly and cordially with Moving Families Foundation™ and the insurance provider staff.

Why did I receive an invitation to apply for a Moving Families Single Parent Protection Plan benefits?

You moved or relocated with your children. Thus, many families receive our invitations because they indicated they would like to receive information on our Moving Families Single Parent Protection Plan benefits.

Who do I contact with questions regarding the Moving Families Single Parent Protection Plan application process?

Moving Families Foundation™

Single Parent Protection Plan

FAQ

For questions about the application, process, or eligibility email:

singleparent@movingfamiliesfoundation.org

Initially, all insurance policies will be awarded to eligible recipients on a first come, first awarded basis, based on availability at the time of request (See Terms and Conditions). Insurance policies will be offered in this manner until such time as we hit the Foundation's goal to offer them to all eligible candidates, according to plan.